

A DECLARATION OF WAR

OPERATION: "Solitary Solidarity"

Fellow Citizens of the World,

I, hereby, declare immediate and aggressive war against every individual and group that lacks integrity; especially influencers, leaders, and others who have and wield significant power.

Like most people, I value life and liberty above all else. Unfortunately, many people who significantly influence or control the most powerful organizations and systems in our world are willing (whether acting as individuals or as part of a group) to actively deceive, lie, cheat, steal, damage, destroy, restrict, enslave, and murder in order to get and keep what they want. To make matters infinitely worse, the technology (including psychological technology) that facilitates active monitoring, analysis, and control of human behavior is becoming more powerful every day. If we, the citizens of the world, don't take immediate and aggressive action; many terrible and unnecessary things will transpire.

My name is Soren Sorensen and, as I have explained elsewhere, I believe that "the powers that be" pose a direct and immediate threat to the health and happiness of our world. For more information, please read (or listen to) my previous essay entitled, "Are you prepared for international civil war?"

Today, I'd like to propose a potentially effective and efficient course of action for protecting our world from "the powers that be" as well as creating an ever-better world. To be clear, this is a declaration of a self-defensive war combined with the conscious and intentional creation of an ever-better world.

But first, it is important to understand that the most threatening "powers that be" generally do not see all people as equally entitled to life and liberty. Instead, they see people as an aspect of nature (like water, land, vegetation, animals, coal, oil, etc.) that they have the right, and in fact the duty, to steward (influence and control) as they see fit; simply because they have the ability to do so.

With all of these things in mind (as well as other things I have mentioned elsewhere), I would like to propose a course of action in two parts: "What Not To Do" and "What To Do".

A PROPOSED COURSE OF ACTION: WHAT NOT TO DO

1) Do not attack, bully, or belittle those who differ from you (including in opinion only). If members of your "herd" continuously behave badly, find a better "herd"; or better yet, stop being a "sheep".

2) Do not believe what you see, hear, or read (no matter the source) without taking the time to personally research and confirm every single detail of the truth. If the summaries and interpretations offered by the influencers and leaders of your "herd" are continually dishonest, you know what to do.

3) Do not naively invest and risk your health, reputation, energy, time, money, and other resources.

To be specific:

3a) Know that any investment in life and liberty protecting "Peaceful Assembly" is extremely risky.

Why? Because “the powers that be” know that all they have to do to destroy your “peaceful assembly” and your reputation; is to hire “professionals” to show up (offline or online), pretend to be part of your “peaceful assembly”, and then destroy it with dishonest, deceptive, threatening, and violent words and actions. If you don't think this happens quite frequently, you've got some depressing research to do.

3b) Know that any investment in life and liberty protecting “Free Speech” is extremely risky.

Why? Because there are few places that you can gather (especially online) to discuss life and liberty threatening issues that aren't actively being monitored and censored by “the powers that be”. Anyone who has ever tried to express ideas that run counter to the unofficially enforced point of view knows that the closer you get to discussing the most powerful (threatening) truths, the more quickly you are censored and potentially banned altogether. Also, as described above, any genuinely powerful (threatening) discussion is almost guaranteed to be hi-jacked and corrupted by paid “professionals”. Again, if you don't think this is happening, you've got some more depressing research to do.

3c) Know that any investment in a life and liberty protecting “group or organization” is extremely risky.

Why? Because, just as described in the previous examples, if your group or organization actually has a chance of being effective and efficient; it will be infiltrated, hi-jacked, distorted, discredited, and destroyed by paid “professionals”. Again, serious research will confirm my assertion.

3d) Know that any investment in life and liberty protecting “personal influence” is extremely risky.

Why? Because, again, if you actually begin to gain significant influence, you are very likely to discover that your reputation is suddenly being publicly attacked by paid “professionals” who will manufacture and distribute lies about you (and those you strategize with). Never forget that mainstream media creates mainstream beliefs! If this age-old practice fails, it is likely that you (and those you strategize with) will be privately attacked in ways too varied and imaginative to quantify; with the hope that you (and those you strategize with) will retract, implode, or explode in a way that will destroy your credibility and your efficacy. Your online identity might even be hi-jacked or otherwise falsified and used in destructive ways. If all of these attacks fail and you are perceived to be a significant enough threat; you will finally be murdered via “apparent suicide”, heart attack, sudden illness, accident, etc.

A PROPOSED COURSE OF ACTION: WHAT TO DO

For all of the reasons mentioned above (and elsewhere), you must act primarily alone and according to your own integrity, intelligence, knowledge, and wisdom. The war of integrity for truth, wisdom, life, liberty, and love will not be won with guns in the streets (you will lose such a war); it can only be won by an infinity of people acting alone from a place of benevolence, integrity, intelligence, knowledge, wisdom, divine intuition, and love. Without integrity, intelligence, knowledge, and wisdom; we have no hope. So, first, make sure that you do everything you can to embody these characteristics. Only then, can you hope to accurately and effectively defend truth, wisdom, life, liberty, and love.

With these things in mind, I propose the following course of action:

1) Know what you want (and don't want).

Take the time required to determine for yourself what you value most, and what you believe is most threatening to those things. Hopefully, you will agree that truth, wisdom, life, liberty, and love are among your highest values; and that those who lack integrity are the greatest threats to those things.

2) Actively nurture what you want.

If you agree with me, please consciously and intentionally protect and nurture truth, wisdom, life, liberty, and love with your every thought, word, and action. In any event, nurture your own truth.

3) Actively starve what you don't want.

If you agree with me, please consciously and intentionally stop facilitating every individual and group that facilitates deception, lying, cheating, stealing, destruction, restriction, enslavement, and murder. Said more simply; please stop working for them, stop buying from them, stop selling to them, stop lending to them, and stop supporting them in every way. In other words, starve them. NOW!!!

IN CLOSING

COLLECTIVE PERSONAL INTEGRITY in thought, word, and action is the most powerful weapon of collective self-defense that we have. It is also the most powerful asset that we could ever have in the creation of an ever-better world. If you value truth, wisdom, life, liberty, love, and an ever-better world; I beg you to commit to the course of action I have proposed, or to a course of action that you truly believe is superior. Remember, your thoughts, words, and actions will create our future!

These are sensitive times! If I said something in a way that “triggered” you; please let me know, so that I can attempt to improve the way in which I express what I am intending to express. I welcome your comments, questions, and suggestions. You can contact me at: www.SorenSorensen.com

My love to all!
